

ABANDON HOPE FOR FLYERS

CARL FISHER FORMERLY OF XENIA PILOT ON ILL-FATED HYDROPLANE

Farmers of Tiptonville, Tennessee, Report They Saw Explosion and Witnessed Airplane Fall Into Mississippi River Sunday.

Tiptonville, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Hope has practically been abandoned for the lives of George H. Simpson, captain and Carl Fisher, pilot, of a hydroplane which late Sunday is believed to have fallen into the Mississippi river between Cairo, Ill., and Carutherville, Mo., drowning both occupants.

Farmers south of Cairo reported Sunday night that they saw the explosion on the aircraft and that it fell blazing into the river. This was half an hour after the plane had passed over the town of Cairo.

When the point where the ship was seen to fall was reached some pieces of fuselage were found but no trace of the men.

Relatives here were unable to verify Monday afternoon, a report that Carl Fisher, 28, of Dayton, former Xenian, had been killed when the hydroplane in which he and George Simpson, Dayton Wright test pilot, were making a trip to Key West, Fla., fell in flames in the Mississippi river at Tiptonville, Tenn., Sunday afternoon.

John Simpson, father-in-law, of Carl Fisher, unable to secure details of the accident Monday morning, left immediately upon receiving the word from Memphis, Tenn., which was to have been the destination of the flyers for two weeks. Relatives have since been attempting to learn the facts concerning the report but have received no definite information.

William A. Fisher, 170 Center street, brother of Carl Fisher, said Monday morning that he had received no word of the reported death of his brother. Mrs. Carl Fisher, who was formerly Miss Ruth Simpson, of this city, and who has been visiting here, was also not notified of any accident to her husband. Monday afternoon, her brother, John Simpson Jr., of this city, was still attempting to secure information of the accident and learn if possible whether the aviators were lost in the accident.

The aviators made their first stop at Cincinnati, where they took on a load of motion picture films for delivery to towns along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Miss Mildred Kerr of Cincinnati was taken as a passenger there, but left the party at Louisville, Ky. News of the accident reached authorities at Dayton Wright Field, early Monday morning from Cairo, Ill., and Cincinnati, where a telephone communication was received by the manager of the motion picture company.

The meagre details said Simpson and Fisher had left Cairo, late Sunday morning and were scheduled to make their next stop at Memphis with a consignment of films. The accident took place at two o'clock. A negro laborer at Tiptonville, which is along the Mississippi, just a few miles south of the Kentucky-Tennessee border line, told residents of that city that he saw the plane fall in the river. He said the plane fell 500 feet in flames, and sank almost immediately, and the river will be dragged at the place where the ship was last seen. As the machine was a hydroplane, and is therefore supposed to either skim the surface of the water, or a few feet above the water, which fact was the cause for the route taken to Key West, it is thought strange that the ship would have been 500 feet high when first seen.

Simpson, the pilot, served with the British Royal Flying Corps during the war, coming to Dayton from Canada. Fisher had been employed at the Dayton-Wright division, General Motors Corporation, for several years. He is a son of David Fisher, of this city, and was born and reared here, moving to Dayton several years ago. He was married to Miss Ruth Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of this city. William A. Fisher of this city is a brother, and Mrs. Florence Malone, and Mrs. Roy Jones of this city and Mrs. Frances Bowers of Dayton, are sisters.

Mrs. Fisher, who visited relatives here Sunday, returned to her home in Dayton Sunday night.

IRELAND MUST WORK OUT HER OWN PEACE ENGLAND ANNOUNCES

British Cabinet Will Put Responsibility for Pacification Of Country On New Irish Government Says Greenwood.

London, Jan. 10.—The British cabinet has decided to put the responsibility for the pacification of Ireland upon the new Irish government with its dual parliamentary system, which will soon be set up under home rule law.

Announcement that Ireland must work out her own salvation of peace was made today by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland in an exclusive interview with the International News Service.

In reply to a question as to the present peace policy of the British government and the outlook for Irish peace in 1921 Sir Hamar Greenwood said:

"The home rule act is now law. That is a historic and irrevocable fact. It is going to operate splendidly. It is a fact that the home rule law has brought the Irish question out of a fog of words into the sunshine of reality.

"In Ulster province (the Unionist stronghold in northern Ireland) candidates are now being selected for the constituent election to the northern parliament.

"The formation of a cabinet and government is now a matter of but a few months. In Southern Ireland there will be an election to choose members of the southern parliament. The first members of the southern parliament will be makers of history and the makers of a new Ireland.

"The future Ireland is now legally in the hands of the Irish people themselves.

"The home rule act will not be altered nor amended except on request of the Irish people speaking through their duly elected representatives."

EFFICIENT AID FOR DISABLED VETERANS ASKED

Harding Hears Plea Of American Legion Commander.

RESIGNS OFFICE

President-Elect Gives Up Place In the U. S. Senate.

Marion, O., Jan. 10.—An earnest plea for the welfare of the disabled veterans of the world war was made to Senator Harding today by F. W. Galbraith, commander of the American Legion. Major Galbraith urged that the bureau of war risk insurance, the public health service and the bureau of vocational training be placed under one directing head. This action he contended would lessen shifting of responsibility from one bureau to the other and obviate many abuses.

Major Galbraith told Senator Harding that there were more than 20,000 disabled service men now in hospitals which were sadly overcrowded and without proper facilities to care for the constantly increasing number of patients.

William G. Sharp, Democrat, and former ambassador to France, outlined to the president-elect, it is understood, his impressions of the reception which Senator Harding's plan for an association of nations would receive from the French people.

When Governor Harry L. Davis took office today he found on his desk Senator Harding's resignation from the United States senate, to become effective January 15. One of Governor Davis' first official acts will be to appoint Senator-elect Frank B. Willis to fill out Senator Harding's unexpired term. Former Governor Cox recently offered to appoint Willis immediately on Senator Harding's resignation, but the president-elect did not take advantage of the proposal of his late opponent and delayed his resignation to let the appointment of his successor come from a governor of his own political party.

DOMESTIC TRAINS AGAIN ON TRACK ERRING FORGIVEN

Romance of Pierre Author and Mrs. Franzen Is At An End.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Two domestic trains that were derailed and all but wrecked by a much too fervid romance were back on the track and running smoothly today following the reconciliation of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Paul Author and Mrs. Phillip Franzen, principals in the latest love tangle.

Mr. and Mrs. Franzen were back in their home at Madison each holding the promise of the other to be "ever true." Mr. and Mrs. Author were back in their Highland Park home seeking to forget the mad adventure that separated them.

The reconciliation between the couples was accomplished late Saturday night after Author and Mrs. Franzen had been brought back from St. Louis. Franzen and Author parted the best of friends when the Franzens left Chicago for Madison. There was no clash but there was less cordiality between Mrs. Franzen and Mrs. Author.

ECONOMY URGED BY HARRY DAVIS IN JOINT SPEECH

New Governor Would Reorganize State Departments.

USE BUSINESS METHOD

Advocates Home Rule In Matters Of Taxation.

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Declaring that the carrying forward of all government activities with the utmost economy compatible with good government and sound business methods is one of the most important problems confronting Ohio's new gubernatorial administration, Governor Davis, in his joint message to the general public and to members of the state legislature, this afternoon recommended the following legislative program:

Abolish all unnecessary commissions and reorganize departments generally with a view of maximum economy and efficiency.

Enact laws carrying out a policy of retrenchment, reducing the number of employees and increasing somewhat the salaries of others in some departments and eliminating duplication of effort by combining so far as possible, all departments of state possessing similar or closely related activities.

Pass laws establishing the principle of home rule in taxation.

Provide for the establishment of a state prohibition enforcement bureau, including a staff charged with the duty of carrying out the provisions of the Crabbe prohibition enforcement act.

After probing the state highway situation, enact legislation necessary to improve the marketing system, including provision for construction and completion of main thoroughfares first.

Include occupational diseases as a basis for compensation to injured workers under the workmen's compensation act.

Make adequate provision for Americanization work on a large scale.

BANDIT IS FATALLY INJURED BY AUTO WHEN ESCAPE TRIED

Becomes Entangled In Rear Wheel of Machine In Youngstown.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—Leo Greenfield, 21 year old bandit, was in a dying condition in the City Hospital today as a result of injuries suffered last Saturday evening following an attempt by a gang of bandits to hold up the drugstore of H. C. Rempes, 1205 Market street.

Greenfield was injured when he was caught in the rear wheel of an automobile in which the bandits sought to escape. He was whirled around and around for three blocks until finally his companions stopped the machine. His left leg was injured so seriously that amputation was necessary, he suffered a fractured collar bone, as well as internal injuries.

When the robbers entered the drug store and ordered the proprietor to hold up his hands, Anthony Jones a clerk, opened fire with a revolver, and the highwaymen ran to the door. They sprang into a waiting automobile Greenfield alighting on the running board. As the car gained speed his leg was caught in the wheel.

Greenfield's companions leaped from the machine and escaped to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

AUTO INDUSTRY BECOMING NORMAL

Detroit, Jan. 10.—That the automobile industry in Detroit is rapidly returning to normal was indicated today by the re-employment of several thousand men who for weeks have been idle.

Several hundred employees of the Continental Motor Car corporation are to return to work Tuesday and the Studebaker corporation resumed operations Monday with 2,000 men. It is reported that the Ford Motor company will shortly announce the resumption of work on a full production basis February 1. The several plants of the General Motors corporation are slowly increasing production and each day sees several hundred more workers added to their payrolls. The Hupp Motor Car plant, the Columbia Motor Company, Packard and the Hudson Motor Car Company are increasing their force daily. Dodge Brothers will open shortly after the termination of the New York auto show, it is said.

UNEMPLOYED FILE INTO CHURCH PEWS OVER 100 STRONG

Historic Trinity Church Of New York Houses "Army."

New York, Jan. 10.—After services had started Sunday morning at historic Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall street, 141 unemployed men, members of the "Hoboes" Union entered the church and filled up the front pews. The men filed quietly into the edifice when a prayer was in progress and took their places without any commotion in the pews designation by the sexton.

Urban J. Ledoux, an official of the "Hoboes" Union, announced Saturday that 500 jobless men would attend the services, but 141 were all he could muster on the Bowers, the starting point of the parade.

The marchers did not appear to be deterred by their enforced idleness, a number of them singing lively tunes as they passed through the streets.

A number of the men were well clad. Most of them wore overcoats, while a few of them had army blankets draped over their shoulders. Thirteen placards attesting want of food, raiment and shelter were interspersed through the line of march.

With the exception of ten men who apparently had passed their fiftieth year, the marchers were young men.

MORE BLOODSHED IS REPORTED FROM COUNTY IN IRELAND

Wholesale Convictions Follow Roids By British Police.

Dublin, Jan. 10.—Forty men who were arrested at Bruff, County Limerick, followed a fatal battle when the police raided a Sinn Fein dance, were sentenced to six months at hard labor today. They were charged with unlawful assembly. Fifty eight others are in jail awaiting trial on the same charge.

A co-operative creamery near Glyn county Limerick, was burned during the night.

The second official reprisal by British troops has just taken place near Cork. In retaliation for the recent ambush of soldiers at Dillons Cross the military sent tanks to the scene which destroyed a house, and levelled a wall from behind which shots had been fired. The work of destruction was in progress two hours.

An outbreak was reported from Dunboyne where Republicans were said to have ambushed a detachment of crown forces.

The forum and reviewing stand were lined and covered with holly and evergreens from the Boys Industrial School farm. Laureates brought here in big trucks manned by penitentiary prisoners. Large flags stood out picturesquely on high masts and hung from the caves of the stands and the statehouse itself.

The rotunda in the capitol in which the public reception was held in the afternoon, was filled with palms, shrubs, flowers and flags. The staff of the outgoing governor, James M. Cox has seen to it that the next governor will find his new offices decorated in keeping with the significance of the event.

ORGANIZE SHAMROCK ATHLETIC CLUB

With many of the old stars, and a number of new lights rallying around the Shamrock Athletic Club, at one time one of the best kid athletic organizations in this part of the state, has been reorganized.

Athletes who played on the team several years ago, when the club held the championship of this section in several branches of sport previous to the war, have now grown up, but in the reorganization that has taken effect, these former stars have been combined again, and with the addition of some new material the club is out to regain its former prestige.

The Shamrocks placed the green and white colors high three years ago, when they defeated the Triangles for the city basketball championship and the club is now getting ready to put another quintet in the field, that promises to be the peer of the old five. Among the veterans and new stars who are out trying for the cage aggregation are "Bill" Bath, "Bill" Derrick, "Monk" Day, "Dutch" Boeklet, "Tommy" Neville, "Nemo" Owens, "Pete" Horen, "Russ" Mutterspaw, Paul Boxwell, "Gil" Lightner, a former Stivers High School star of Dayton, Bert Hoag and Cox, former Osborn high school and independent light.

The Shamrocks practice at the Rink every Tuesday and Thursday nights between 7:30 and 9:30, and Elmer "Bud" Owens, the "grand old man" in the high school athletics, is coaching the quintet. As there is now no strong independent combination in the city, the Shamrocks should enjoy a successful court season.

CITY LAYS TRACKS DESPITE INJUNCTION: POLICE GUARD WORK

Detroit, Jan. 10.—Guarded by about 200 city policemen, 100 laborers employed by the city early Sunday morning laid tracks on Detroit's new municipal street railway across tracks of the Detroit United Railway Co. at St. Jean and Mack Aves., after Circuit Judge Harry J. Dingeman had issued an injunction restraining the city from crossing the tracks. While the work was being accomplished E. J. Burdick, assistant general manager of the Detroit United Railway, who had in his pocket the restraining order, was a virtual prisoner on Belle Isle, due, he said, to his being taken to the park by the police.

When the work of crossing the Detroit United Railway tracks was begun, Burdick is said to have approached Joseph S. Goodwin, manager of the municipal system, and demanded that the work be halted. He was about to produce the injunction papers, it is said, when he was taken into custody by a policeman and taken in a patrol wagon across the Belle Isle drawbridge to the island for investigation on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was soon liberated, but was unable to return to the city because the tender of the drawbridge would not close the span. The bridge had been closed to permit the patrol wagon to cross and later to permit the wagon to return to the city after Burdick had been left at the island police station. Burdick was unable to cross until daylight (the Belle Isle bridge is closed to all except police traffic at midnight each night.)

Burdick, in a statement, declared contempt of court proceedings would be started tomorrow by his company against the city and that he intended to file personal suit against the city for false arrest. The police admitted Burdick had been taken to the island station for investigation.

WOMEN INVADING SMART SERVICE CLUBS

London, Jan. 10.—Women are invading the smartest and many of the oldest service clubs in London. The Cavalry Club, the Junior United Services and the Guards Club permit lady guests and now the visits of lady friends of members are under discussion at the United Services Club and the Army and Navy.

At the United Services Club an official said that the committee were considering the addition of a ladies dining room with drawing and cloak room.

"So many members live out of town," said the official, "and when they come to town to meet their friends they have to send their wives out to scrimp for food in overcrowded restaurants. To alter that the ladies' club room is the latest institution and its success has already been proved."

GENTLEMEN BANDITS TERRORIZE AUTOISTS OF NEW JERSEY

Elizabeth N. J. Jan. 10.—The campaign of automobile holdup men who have been terrorizing the New Jersey roads for weeks took a new violent spurt early today when five well dressed bandits who had all the manners of society men, held up five motor cars, robbed their occupants of several hundred dollars, defeated police of three nearby towns in running pistol fights and got away in their own car. Finding that they had robbed a legless world war veteran the holdup men apologized and returned $50 and valuables they had taken from him.

NERVOUSNESS FELT OVER ABSENCE OF U. S. BALLOONISTS

Party May Have Been Held Up By Accident Is Fear.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 10.—Silence hung over the northland today and the absence of definite word from the American balloonists has begun to cause nervousness among officials, press correspondents and friends who are gathered along the frontier of civilization to welcome the aeronauts when they emerge from the frozen wilderness.

There is much talk of the party being held up by misadventure of some sort, possibly an accident due to bad trails or illness. The Indian runner, George McLeod, who brought the first word of the safe arrival of the Americans at Moose Factory, revealed further that Lieut. Stephen Farrell, one of the balloonists, who suffered worst on the trip, while the men were lost in the forests, was in very bad shape physically. He had suffered keenly from exposure, frost bite and hunger and was so weak when the party left Moose Factory for the railway that he had to be carried on a dog sled. He was unable to walk.

Guides who ventured northward from Cochrane on the chance of intercepting the party, have sent word that the trail along the Abitibi river is in treacherous condition. The river is full of rapids and many places are covered by slush and snow is not supported by solid ice underneath.

Even the experienced Indian runners were fooled by some of the soft spots.

However, bad weather is being taken into consideration and it is recognized that the fresh snow which has been prevailing north of Mattice would hold up the party to some extent.

There was keen disappointment when the men did not arrive on Sunday afternoon.

If the balloonists come into Mattice they will find a brawny member of the Canadian police waiting to put them under arrest on the technical charge of landing in the uniform of a foreign nation at a place otherwise than those designated in the international agreement for aircraft. But it is a friendly proceeding.

"I do not like even the idea of a technical arrest for those boys are sure heroes," said Policeman McLaughlan who was designated by the Canadian government to await their arrival and arrest them. McLaughlan is a fine upstanding man, brawny, clear-eyed and alert—a typical member of the Royal Northwest Mounted police.

"I don't know what to do first 'arrest them' or congratulate them," he said.

IMPORTANT ADVANCES IN WELFARE WORK MADE BY HOOVEN AND ALLISON COMPANY

The Management of The Hooven & Allison Company, with the cooperation of the employees of the company, who number 650 men and women when the Xenia Mills are running in full force, and with the assistance of a number of Xenia's best known physicians, have undertaken an important extension of the Welfare Work already installed on the grounds of the Plant.

This work, which has been quickly extended during the past five years, has reached a point where it is to be one of the Company's Departments and conducted under systematic supervision, with trained men and women in charge. A number of valuable features are already in operation. The Company has erected 61 dwellings for its employees, all located on its own grounds. These dwellings are each complete in themselves and provided with living comforts and sanitary conveniences. Attention will be given this year to the care of lawns, shade trees, flowers and vines. Each resident who desires has a garden in a large plot set aside by the Company and supervised by a practical gardener. The past year these garden plots have been observed and favorably commented on by many people who drove out Cincinnati Avenue. 120 of these plots were gardened last year.

At the east end of the Company's grounds, five acres have been allotted for a playground for children. These grounds are to be laid out and equipped by the Supervisor of Employment. He and the Welfare Director will have charge of the grounds and equip them for children's healthy, out-door play life.

Life Insurance is carried by the Company for the benefit of all employees who have been in its service for six months or longer. The Company furnishes coal and groceries to its employees, charging only cost and a small overhead expense. It operates also an excellent cafeteria where meals are served at cost to all employees who desire them.

The Company has lately converted a residence, immediately joining the New Mill on Cincinnati Avenue, into Welfare Department Quarters. It contains an attractive waiting room, office, a completely equipped surgery and medical room, wards for three beds and quarters for the Director of Welfare, Mrs. C. C. Shearer and a graduate full time nurse, Miss Madge McKenzie, who has joined this work as her assistant. It is in connection with these well equipped quarters that a number of well known physicians of this city have associated their services and will hold a daily clinic from 11:15 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. for the benefit of the employees of the Company and their families. The physicians who have consented to serve for the trial of this plan of service are: Dr. Harold C. Messenger, Dr. R. K. Finley, Dr. A. D. DeHaven, Dr. Clarence Densler, Dr. C. G. McPherson, Dr. Rayburn Mc-

Clellan, Dr. Lawrence Shields, Dr. Reed Madden, Dr. W. A. Galloway, Chief of Staff.

The first named six will each serve the clinic one day in the week at the clinic hour. Dr. Madden and Dr. Shields will be available for their special work on call. Dr. Galloway will give aid to the entire plan of Welfare work of the medical section. A number of these physicians are skilled specialists. It is hoped later to develop the staff service to make these valuable specialist services available at the clinic under conditions of trained nurse attendance and efficient oversight. Aid for accident cases of severe accident the patient will have a ward available till he may be able to be removed to his own home. This work will remain under the compensation for employee and physician of the Ohio Industrial Commission.

Funds for sustaining the clinic, which is a separate welfare effort to that of the Ohio Industrial Commission, are provided by a small assessment weekly on each employee and the Company, which adds sufficient each week to provide for the estimated expense budget.

"It is hoped that a trial of this plan of service for the coming six months may prove both practical and successful and that the Company's entire welfare work will have the hearty co-operation of all who are associated with it or may be interested in this particular work or in community welfare work," said Dr. W. A. Galloway, Monday.

IS GRANDEST ON EARTH, SHE SAYS

Toledo Woman Makes Gain of Twenty Eight Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"From my experience with it I positively believe that Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth," said Mrs. J. L. Southward, 3306 1-2 Monroe street, Toledo, Ohio.

"At the time I began taking this medicine," she continued, "my health was dreadfully run-down, and now I am feeling as well as I ever did in my life and I have gained twenty-eight pounds."

"My stomach was in such bad condition that after every meal I would be in distress for several hours. Gas would form and accumulate around my heart, and I had such terrible smothering spells I would become frightened. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep well at night; during the day I was so weak I could not attend to my household duties. I tried all kinds of medicines, but nothing did me any good."

"I began taking Tanlac upon the advice of a friend who had been greatly helped by it, and I began to feel the good results after the first day. My appetite picked up, and when I began eating hearty meals I was surprised to find my food agreed with me perfectly."

"I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac, and I am not troubled in the least now by gas forming, smothering spells nor nervousness and I sleep like a child all night. I feel rested and refreshed on rising in the mornings and I am now able to do all my own housework."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley, Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister, Fairfield, Paul P. Young, Osborn, C. J. Logsdon, New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

THE WEEK AFTER NEW YEAR'S—WHEN DOUBTS BEGIN TO CREEP IN ABOUT THOSE RESOLUTIONS.

By Margaret E. Sangster.

It is usually with a fine fervor that we make our New Year's resolutions. We are so sure of ourselves on New Year's morning; we are so certain that we will never repeat the mistakes of a year ago! In the past we have known discouragement and met with failure—in the past we have clasped hands with defeat and, perhaps, shirked many a responsibility. But, despite discouragement and failure and defeat, we are pleasantly conscious, on New Year's morning, of the fact that Father Time has turned over a clean white leaf for us to write upon. We are pleasantly conscious of the fact that the writing has been erased, again, from life's slate.

We make our New Year's resolutions buoyantly—notwithstanding the fact that we have made, and failed to keep, many resolutions in the past. We make them smilingly, with assurance in our souls and a song in our hearts. Nothing seems too hard to accomplish with a New Year stretched out, like a shining road, across the future. Nothing seems too large to promise, too difficult to undertake. Why, there's a whole twelve months in which to fulfil our promises—a whole three hundred and sixty-five days in which to redeem our pledges. We are so sure of ourselves on New Year's morning!

Friends of mine, it's better to make a few promises that you will really be able to keep than to make a great many that will have to be neglected. You're apt to have a better reputation for truth, a better standing in the community, if you pledge yourself to do only a few things—and do them well!

And so, a week after New Year's if you have made only the resolutions that you can do justice to, you will be much happier than the folk who have made so many and such elaborate resolutions that they are swamped by them. You'll find that people are more likely to expect worth-while things of you.

DOUGHT WE TO INTERFERE WITH ENGLAND'S IRISH QUESTION, ANY MORE THAN THEY WITH OUR DOMESTIC AFFAIRS?

Certain overzealous advocates of the cause for which Irishmen are fighting are adopting tactics that are bound to alienate rather than win sympathy from neutral sources. The United States Government is officially neutral on the subject of Irish home rule and Irish independence. It has no more ground of quarrel with Great Britain because of its management of what it considers to be a domestic question than the British Government would have ever the policy of America in the Philippines or over our handling of the problem of mob violence in certain sections of this country. Any deliberate attempt, therefore, to embroil us with Great Britain under the mistaken notion that thereby the cause of Ireland will be aided is not only very bad strategy but is directly calculated to create hostility where none now exists and to destroy the natural sympathy which America is always ready to extend to the oppressed.

Such obvious attempts to arouse the passions of the ignorant and unthinking do no good to the cause in which they are employed. American sympathy with Ireland's just aspirations for liberty is genuine and sincere. The hope of most of us, as it is perhaps the hope of a great proportion of the people of Great Britain as well, is for some just settlement of the Irish question as shall bring peace, contentment and prosperity to Ireland and heal a running sore which for centuries has embittered the relations of Ireland and England. But it is recognized that the issue is one that will have to be solved by the peoples immediately concerned and that any external interference will only intensify the difficulties and delay the solution.

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION.

In case of death, resignation or removal of president, or of "inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office," the vice president becomes president. If the vice president fails, then presidential succession act provides that members of cabinet, in order of creation of their departments, shall "act as president" until congress can order new election. Cabinet officers cannot actually become president or draw salary as such, but can merely perform duties of presidency, super-added to their own, during emergency. Constitution says president must be "elected," and cabinet officers are merely appointed, not elected. There is no method providing for determining what constitutes "inability" of president; this question arose during the long and serious illness of President Wilson but remained unanswered.

STATES THAT GROW PRESIDENTS.

Virginia, the "Mother of Presidents," has furnished eight presidents (Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Tyler, W. H. Harrison, Taylor and Wilson) and they served 45 years, out of a total of 132. Ohio comes next with six (Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley and Taft) and they served 25 years. New York has furnished three (VanBuren, Fillmore and Roosevelt) and they served 15 years. North Carolina has also furnished three (Jackson, Polk and Johnson) and they served 16 years. Massachusetts has furnished two (John Adams and J. Q. Adams) and they served eight years. The only other states in which presidents have been born are Kentucky (Lincoln), New Hampshire (Pierce), New Jersey (Cleveland), Pennsylvania (Buchanan), and Vermont (Arthur). Hence only 10 states out of the 48 have bred men who became president. Both the big parties went to Ohio this year for their candidate; so that state will probably score again.

"THE LUCK O' THE NAVY" IS STILL GOOD, BALLOONISTS PROVE

Pals of the balloonists at Rockaway, N. Y., naval air station receiving news of safety of three balloonists' view of Moose Factory, near where they landed, and inset of Walter Hinton, one of the three "lucky" fliers.

The luck o' the navy holds good for balloonists as well as the sea-going fighters. That's what any man-jack of 'em will tell you now that the three naval lieutenants lost for weeks after a balloon flight, are on their way back to the station, safe and sound. The three men, Lieutenants Walter Hinton (who was a member of the NC-4), A. L. Kloor and S. A. Farrell, left Rockaway field December 14. Four days later, after battling weather and landing conditions, they landed in a forest near Moose Factory, a Hudson Bay trading post on the shores of James bay in northern Canada. They were sheltered in an Indian's tepee until held came from Moose Factory. No report of their fate was received until January 2. It took Indian runners twelve days to carry the message of their rescue to the nearest point of communication.

THE LAW'S DELAY.

Near San Francisco, recently, three delegates were lynched; they were in jail, their weird to dree, for crimes revolting pinched. And masked men came, perhaps three score, as grim as doom or fate, and strung them to a sycamore, which groaned beneath their weight. And law abiding people then sent up an angry cry; it was a shame that untried men should thus unshriven die. And I forsook my divers tasks to rant around and rail, to say those brutal men in masks should all be locked in jail. "No man should feel the halter draw, except by court's decree," I sternly cried; "we have our law, and it should honored be." Whereat a most sardonic skate, who stood at my right hand, remarked, "The people would not wait to see those monsters camed. And so the stars above us saw a scene of death and woe; the people weary of the law, it is so beastly slow. A fiend is tried and tried again, and tried another time, until the weary sons of men forget his ancient crime. And if at last some prison grim should hide his sordid form, some governor will pardon him before his bunk is warm. Or, through some writ that has a flaw, to fresh crime he may go; the people weary of the law, it is so deadly slow." I looked with scorn upon the gink who talked in such a way; I looked with scorn, but couldn't think of anything to say.

THE STILES BAKING COMPANY AFFILIATES WITH LABORTORY

On another page of this edition of the Gazette appears a big advertisement by the Stiles Baking Company, announcing the introduction of a new loaf of bread which will be known as KLEEN MAID Bread. In view of the advertising which has already started on KLEEN MAID bread and the fact that the introduction of this loaf signifies a new affiliation of the Stiles Baking Co., with a famous laboratory of food chemistry, readers of the Gazette will, no doubt, be interested in Mr. Paul Stiles' statement regarding his company's new plans.

"The most important fact that in connection with our introduction of KLEEN MAID Bread," says Mr. Stiles, "is that KLEEN MAID is not merely a new name adopted for the purpose of attracting attention, but that KLEEN MAID Bread itself represents a new step forward in the history of our company, and we confidently believe, of the baking industry of this section. KLEEN MAID stands for new developments in our methods of bread-making, based on scientific premises. Our introduction of the new loaf is the direct result of our recent affiliation with a Chicago concern which we believe is doing more than any other one agency in the world to elevate the quality and food-value of the nation's staff of life—BREAD. "This Chicago concern is The W. E. Long Company, established 18 years ago and today maintaining for the education and service of its clients, from coast to coast, the finest laboratory of baking chemistry in the world. For a long time we have been hearing good reports of this organization. We did not thoroughly investigate, however, until quite recently. We are now glad to announce our affiliation with The W. E. Long Company—and we consider this step the most important we have ever taken since our business was founded.

"The Stiles Baking Company has long been aware of the progress being made throughout the nation in the study of food science and food

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

buy them, and for bread made by bakers who work under the instructions of the world's most able staff of baking experts. KLEEN MAID is so distinctly superior to any bread we have heretofore produced and is so truly a product of scientific knowledge—as opposed to the "guesswork" bread of the unscientific bakery or the home kitchen—that we believe its merit cannot fail to be apparent to the person who will give it a fair trial. We expect our KLEEN MAID Bread to set a standard of bread goodness in this locality and to win many of our Xenia women away from the wasteful and tedious practice of doing their own baking.

Introducing— KLEEN-MAID

Don't Say
"Bread"
Say
"KLEEN MAID"

A New Bread

A Different Bread

A Bread of Super-fine Quality

YOU Xenia folks who have traveled, will remember the name KLEEN MAID Bread. You've seen it advertised in many of our big cities, where it is the leading product of America's greatest bakeries.

To secure the KLEEN MAID bread for Xenia, was an achievement of which we are proud. For there is much more to it than merely a fine-sounding bread name.

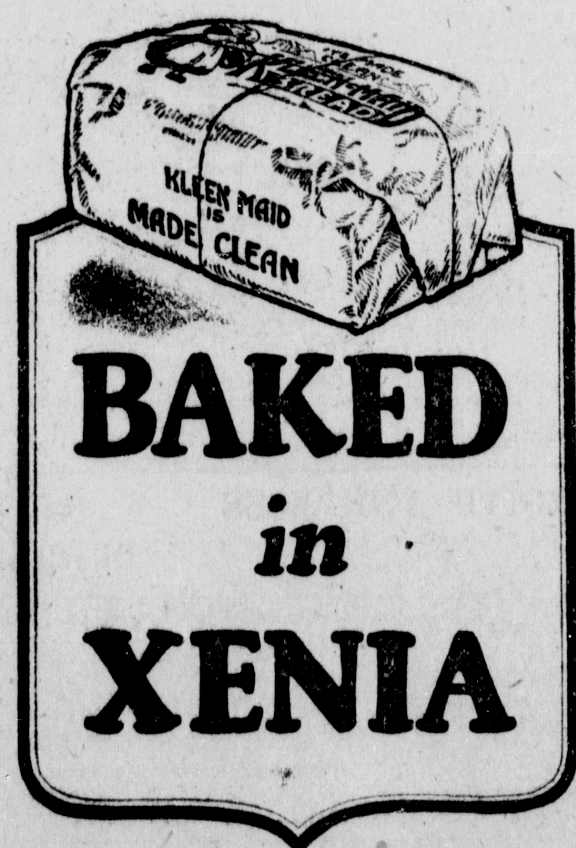

The name KLEEN MAID goes only on bread that is up to a certain standard. And the bakery getting it must qualify--it must be prepared to produce the quality demanded before it can secure the rights.

We qualified. And we're proud of it. We consider it the greatest event in our career as bakers to Xenia.

To assist in making it a loaf of supreme quality we called to our bakery the most efficient experts in baking chemistry, organization and shop practice to supplement our own efforts.

These experts advised us to make KLEEN MAID only in the economical big loaf. Big loaves are better even when made from the same dough. They bake to a finer texture and have a more delicious flavor. Big loaves have less crust and therefore less waste.

In KLEEN MAID, we offer you bread that we honestly believe you'll pronounce the best you ever tasted. Your taste will tell you the excellence of its quality. You can be sure that it is a loaf of full purity, quality, nourishment--the finest bread that we know how to produce.

KLEEN MAID is now at your grocer's in the Economical Big Loaf. Order a loaf to-day

ANTIOCH DEFEATS CEDARVILLE 36-20

Antioch College basketballers reached out and grabbed the edge on the annual series with Cedarville College by defeating the Presbyterians 36-20, in the game played at Alford Memorial Gymnasium, Cedarville, Saturday night.

The game enabled Antioch to divide the twin-bill with the Cedarville tossers, the girls team the latter school defeating the Yellow Springs College girls, 22-18, in a contest that showed unusual interest for sextettes.

In the main bill of the two-game program, the Antiochians showed better pass-work than the Cedarville quintet and a rather daring shooting menu that was successful. Cedarville during the entire first half, was baffled by the high speed pass work of the Yellow Springs cagers, and the period for the Cedarville lads, meant a world of long shots, and a few lucky baskets. Antioch developed a big lead in this period that enabled the tossers from that school to stand for a different offensive on part of Cedarville in the second period.

The contest was marked by the playing of Willis Corry, who has been transferred from center to right forward this year, and who covered a world of territory producing lightning like pass-work and a good eye at the hoops. Dwight Northup was another shining light while watching his man carefully he annexed five baskets himself. Collins was the principal point man for the Cedarville lads contributing five fielders and two fouls. Willtoeet R DL RD e tae too jhl while H. Wright injected much into the game with his entrance in the second period. The lineup and summary:

I cannot hustle through my life, consumed with vim and pep. I'd rather slowly amble through enjoying every step.

FIRST FIRE OF NEW YEAR OCCURS SUNDAY

Xenia firemen responded to the first fire of the new year, Sunday afternoon.

A blaze at the home of Mamie Baker, colored, Columbus street, called the department out at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The conflagration started from a defective flue, according to Fire Captain Mahanna, and the inside of the house was burned slightly. Firemen extinguished the flames with chemicals.

In the year of 1920, the year started out with a bad fire on New Years Day, the blaze being at the home of J. A. Bales on Maple street, and there were several bad fires in January. Those who believe in signs, may take it that the indications are for fewer and less disastrous fires during the coming twelvemonths.

Is It Yours

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF

JACOB H. SCHIFF

January 10, 1847

One of the greatest of American financiers and philanthropists was

Jacob H. Schiff, born in 1847, whose death occurred only last September.

He was born in Germany of a family in moderate circumstances. One relative was a banker and from him Mr. Schiff received a little early training in finance, which was enough to make him want to become a banker also. At the age of 19 he decided that America held the greatest promise for him and so, just after the close

Just to Be Together Enough.

Chapter 60.

A feeling of thankfulness that we were all saved crowded out all regret for other loss. No one had been hurt seriously, although dear Mrs. Gray had sprained her ankle. She knew of a boarding house near, and Jim and Clara, the Grays, with us, found rooms there until we could decide what we would do.

"All my hard work on that house gone up in smoke" Dick complained so comically we all laughed.

"Just as well I didn't accept your offer to plan one for me," Jim replied. They saw how nervous and shaken we women were and tried to help us by acting as if they too, weren't almost as upset as we were.

"Of course, you were insured?" It was Mrs. Gray who spoke to Dick.

"No, I have talked of it, but kept putting it off." He did not tell them that he had spoken to me several times and that I had objected to him using the money.

"You don't mean to say Williams, that you had no insurance on your things?" Jim Watson said.

"Not a cent!" Dick answered.

"Well, I am surprised—and sorry. I would have sworn you would have known you carry life insurance, why not fire?"

"Procrastination," Dick exclaimed, again shielding me.

"I am very sorry," Mrs. Gray's gentle voice broke in.

When Dick left to go to the office I followed him into the hall.

"You will have to make money now, Dick, lots of it. We can't live in a boarding house, you hate it so, and it will cost a lot to buy furniture."

"Don't worry, Nan! I am so thankful I still have you and Junior I can think of nothing else. Look around, it will keep you from thinking and see if you can find a little furnished apartment cheap. I'd go mad in a boarding house."

If Dick's father hadn't left us that $5,000 we would have been in an awful condition. But we had that, and the $700 we had made—that is, most of it. I forgot our debts as I assured myself we would soon make enough to pay for furniture, etc., again. And I also planned to buy better, handsomer things when we did buy. We were on our way to make our fortune. The fire was a setback of course, but only a temporary one—so I figured.

I found a little place before night. It was small, and we would be cramped. But it had a nice kitchen, and Dick could have the things he liked. Clara and Jim would remain in the boarding house until they found an apartment. They would refurnish with their insurance money as would the Grays.

Another reason I was glad to get the furnished apartment was that at the boarding house we could have so little privacy, and I wanted to talk things over with Dick. Clara was a bit curious and even if Dick had said a little on the side, I knew he did not want them to know too much of our affairs.

He brought home a big roll of paper, and at once started to draw plans for a home improving on the old ones—so he claimed.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

"You see, Nan," he said for the hundredth time, "we won't have an architect to pay so we can put that into the house." He forgot that what he intended to save by being his own architect had already gone into every part of the house from the cellar to the attic, although now he proposed to put it into a new window. Neither of us had experience enough to know that a good architect is the very best asset a young inexperienced couple can have when they decide to build a home. Especially is this so if they have but a limited amount to spend.

"We'll insure to the limit," he replied. "You would have been insured if it hadn't been for me." I should not have listened to you Nan. I knew it was risky, especially in a cheaply built apartment house. But there's no use crying over spilt milk. I saw Harter today. He's going to open an account with us. He said it was because I was employed there. The firm are pleased."

"Will you make a lot because of it?" "That depends. But such things make a fellow solid with the house."

"I hope it will make them advance your salary. We'll need all we can get now."

Yet that night we were happier, less taken up with "and" thoughts of money, than in many months. That we had been saved seemed to make all else of no particular significance. We petted and loaned Junior; then after he had fallen asleep, we talked softly, lovingly, to each other, until we too retired.

To Be Continued.

of the Civil War, he came to New York and found a position as a bank clerk. Although the bank clerk's salary was ridiculously small, he saved money, invested it wisely, and before long was junior partner in a small banking business. His business prospered so he was fairly rich before he had been in America ten years. Later he became a member of one of the greatest banking firms in America, and finally head of that firm.

It was Mr. Schiff who backed E. H. Harriman in the great financial adventure involving hundreds of millions, by which the Union Pacific Railroad was recognized. He placed a large Japanese loan in this country when Japan went to war with Russia; was financial advisor to the Standard Oil Company, and to many great railroads.

Yet he is best known as a philanthropist and gave millions away in charities. He was intensely patriotic and as soon as we entered the war denounced Germany, and declared it already defeated. He was a militant American and wanted no peace without complete victory. He was a friend of almost all the great political leaders.

ABANDON HOPE FOR FLYERS

CARL FISHER FORMERLY OF XENIA PILOT ON ILL-FATED HYDROPLANE

Farmers of Tiptonville, Tennessee, Report They Saw Explosion and Witnessed Airplane Fall Into Mississippi River Sunday.

Tiptonville, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Hope has practically been abandoned for the lives of George H. Simpson, captain and Carl Fisher, pilot, of a hydroplane which late Sunday is believed to have fallen into the Mississippi river between Cairo, Ill., and Caruthersville, Mo., drowning both occupants.

Farmers south of Cairo reported Sunday night that they saw the explosion on the aircraft and that it fell blazing into the river. This was half an hour after the plane had passed over the town of Cairo.

When the point where the ship was seen to fall was reached some pieces of fuselage were found but no trace of the men.

Relatives here were unable to verify Monday afternoon, a report that Carl Fisher, 28, of Dayton, former Xenian, had been killed when the hydroplane in which he and George Simpson, Dayton Wright test pilot, were making a trip to Key West, Fla., fell in flames in the Mississippi river at Tiptonville, Tenn., Sunday afternoon.

John Simpson, father-in-law of Carl Fisher, unable to secure details of the accident Monday morning left immediately upon receiving the word from Memphis, Tenn., which was to have been the destination of the flyers for two weeks. Relatives have since been attempting to learn the facts concerning the report but have received no definite information.

William A. Fisher, 170 Center street, brother of Carl Fisher, said Monday morning that he had received no word of the reported death of his brother. Mrs. Carl Fisher, who was formerly Miss Ruth Simpson, of this city, and who has been visiting here, was also not notified of any accident to her husband. Monday afternoon, her brother, John Simpson Jr., of this city, was still attempting to secure information of the accident and learn if possible whether the aviators were lost in the accident.

The aviators made their first stop

IRELAND MUST WORK OUT HER OWN PEACE

ENGLAND ANNOUNCES

British Cabinet Will Put Responsibility for Pacification Of Country On New Irish Government Says Greenwood.

London, Jan. 10.—The British cabinet has decided to put the responsibility for the pacification of Ireland upon the new Irish government with its dual parliamentary system, which will soon be set up under home rule law.

Announcement that Ireland must work out her own salvation of peace was made today by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland in an exclusive interview with the International News Service.

In reply to a question as to the present peace policy of the British government and the outlook for Irish peace in 1921 Sir Hamar Greenwood said:

"The home rule act is now law. That is a historic and irrevocable fact. It is going to operate splendidly. It is a fact that the home rule law has brought the Irish question out of a fog of words into the sunshine of reality.

"In Ulster province (the Unionist stronghold in northern Ireland) candidates are now being selected for the constituent election to the northern parliament.

"The formation of a cabinet and government is now a matter of but a few months. In Southern Ireland there will be an election to choose members of the southern parliament. The first members of the southern parliament will be makers of history and the makers of a new Ireland.

"The future Ireland is now legally in the hands of the Irish people themselves.

"The home rule act will not be altered nor amended except on request of the Irish people speaking through their duly elected representatives."

EFFICIENT AID FOR DISABLED VETERANS ASKED

Harding Hears Plea Of American Legion Commander.

RESIGNS OFFICE

President-Elect Gives Up Place In the U. S. Senate.

Marion, O., Jan. 10.—An earnest plea for the welfare of the disabled veterans of the world war was made to Senator Harding today by F. W. Galbraith, commander of the American Legion. Major Galbraith urged that the bureau of war risk insurance, the public health service and the bureau of vocational training be placed under one directing head. This action he contended would lessen shifting of responsibility from one bureau to the other and obviate many abuses.

Major Galbraith told Senator Harding that there were more than 20,000 disabled service men now in hospitals which were sadly overcrowded and without proper facilities to care for the constantly increasing number of patients.

William G. Sharp, Democrat, and former ambassador to France, outlined to the president-elect, it is understood, his impressions of the reception which Senator Harding's plan for an association of nations would receive from the French people.

When Governor Harry L. Davis took office today he found on his desk Senator Harding's resignation from the United States senate, to become effective January 15. One of Governor Davis' first official acts will be to appoint Senator-elect Frank B. Willis to fill out Senator Harding's unexpired term. Former Governor Cox recently offered to appoint Willis immediately on Senator Harding's resignation, but the president-elect did not take advantage of the proposal of his late opponent and delayed his resignation to let the appointment of his successor come from a governor of his own political party.

PLOT TO BLOW UP BRITISH BUILDING FOILED BY POLICE

Man and Girl Are Arrested; Evidence Is Seized.

London, Jan. 10.—A plot to blow up parliament building by officers of the Republican army has just been nipped in the bud by Scotland Yard, according to the Empire News today. A man and a girl, presumably lover and sweetheart who had been under surveillance by secret agents were arrested on Thames embankment. The girl threw her handbag into the river. It was recovered and according to the Empire News, contained documents which revealed the plot. There were plans for the construction of small bombs both explosive and incendiary, which could be exploded from a long distance.

MENTIONED AS SECRETARY TO PRESIDENT-ELECT

George B. Christian, Jr., one-time Democrat and six years secretary to Senator Harding who will be the President's secretary after March 4, according to information from a reliable source. Mr. Christian has been an intimate friend of the Hardings for many years, having lived next door to the President-elect in Marion. He was a straight Democrat until there arose in Marion a new political party known as the Harding Democrats.

DOMESTIC TRAINS AGAIN ON TRACK

ERRING FORGIVEN

Romance of Pierre Auther and Mrs. Franzen Is At An End.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Two domestic trains that were derailed and all but wrecked by a much too fervid romance were back on the track and running smoothly today following the reconciliation of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Paul Auther and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Franzen, principals in the latest love tangle.

Mr. and Mrs. Franzen were back in their home at Madison each holding the promise of the other to be "ever true." Mr. and Mrs. Auther were back in their Highland Park home seeking to forget the mad adventure that separated them.

The reconciliation between the couples was accomplished late Saturday night after Auther and Mrs. Franzen had been brought back from St. Louis. Franzen and Auther parted the best of friends when the Franzens left Chicago for Madison. There was no clash but there was less cordiality between Mrs. Franzen and Mrs. Auther.

Abolish all unnecessary commissions and reorganize departments generally with a view of maximum economy and efficiency.

UNEMPLOYED FILE INTO CHURCH Pews OVER 100 STRONG

Historic Trinity Church Of New York Houses "Army."

New York, Jan. 10.—After services had started Sunday morning at historic Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall street 141 unemployed men, members of the "Hoboes" Union entered the church and filled up the front pews. The men filed quietly into the edifice when a prayer was in progress and took their places without any commotion in the pews designation by the sexton.

Urban J. Ledoux, an official of the "Hoboes" Union, announced Saturday that 500 jobless men would attend the services, but 141 were all he could muster on the Bowery, the starting point of the parade.

The marchers did not appear to be dejected by their enforced idleness, a number of them singing lively tunes as they passed through the streets.

A number of the men were well clad. Most of them wore overcoats, while a few of them had army blankets draped over their shoulders. Thirteen placards attesting want of food, raiment and shelter were interspersed through the line of march.

With the exception of ten men who apparently had passed their fiftieth year, the marchers were young men.

ORGANIZE SHAMROCK ATHLETIC CLUB

With many of the old stars, and a number of new lights rallying around the Shamrock Athletic Club, at one time one of the best kid athletic organizations in this part of the state, has been reorganized.

Athletes who played on the team several years ago, when the club held the championship of this section in several branches of sport previous to the war, have now grown up, but in the reorganization that has taken effect, these former stars have been combined again, and with the addition of some new material the club is out to regain its former prestige.

The Shamrocks placed the green and white colors high three years ago, when they defeated the Triangles for the city basketball championship and the club is now getting ready to put another quintet in the field, that promises to be the peer of the old five. Among the veterans and new stars who are out trying for the cage aggregation are "Bill" Bath, "Bill" Derrick, "Monk" Day, "Dutch" Bocklet, "Tommy" Neville, "Nemo" Owens, "Pete" Horen, "Russ" Mutterspaw, Paul Boxwell, "Gil" Lightner, a former Stivers High School star of Dayton, Bert Hoag and Cox, former Osborn high school and independent light.

The Shamrocks practice at the Rink every Tuesday and Thursday nights between 7:30 and 9:30 and Elmer "Bud" Owens, the "grand old man" in the high school athletics is coaching the quintet. As there is now no strong independent combination in the city, the Shamrocks should enjoy a successful court season.

CITY LAYS TRACKS DESPITE INJUNCTION: POLICE GUARD WORK

Detroit, Jan. 10.—Guarded by about 200 city policemen, 100 laborers employed by the city early Sunday morning laid tracks on Detroit's new municipal street railway across tracks of the Detroit United Railway Co. at St. Jean and Mack Aves., after Circuit Judge Harry J. Dingeman had issued an injunction restraining the city from crossing the tracks. While the work was being accomplished E. J. Burdick, assistant general manager of the Detroit United Railway, who had in his pocket the restraining order, was a virtual prisoner on Belle Isle, due, he said, to his being taken to the park by the police.

When the work of crossing the Detroit United Railway tracks was begun, Burdick is said to have approached Joseph S. Goodwin, manager of the municipal system, and demanded that the work be halted. He was about to produce the injunction papers, it is said, when he was taken into custody by a policeman and taken in a patrol wagon across the Belle Isle drawbridge to the island for investigation on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was soon liberated, but was unable to return to the city because the tender of the drawbridge would not close the span. The bridge had been closed to permit the patrol wagon to cross and later to permit the wagon to return to the city after Burdick had been left at the island police station. Burdick was unable to cross until daylight (the Belle Isle bridge is closed to all except police traffic at midnight each night.)

Burdick, in a statement, declared contempt of court proceedings would be started tomorrow by his company against the city and that he intended to file personal suit against the city for false arrest. The police admitted Burdick had been taken to the island station for investigation.

WOMEN INVADING SMART SERVICE CLUBS

London, Jan. 10.—Women are invading the smartest and many of the oldest service clubs in London. The Cavalry Club, the Junior United Services and the Guards Club permit lady guests and now the visits of lady friends of members are under discussion at the United Services Club and the Army and Navy.

At the United Services Club an official said that the committee were considering the addition of a ladies dining room with drawing and cloak room.

"So many members live out of town," said the official, "and when they come to town to meet their friends they have to send their wives out to scrimp for food in overcrowded restaurants. To alter that the 'ladies' club room is the latest institution and its success has already been proved."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Ohmer Parker, the brick contractor has the contract for the brick work for the new boiler house to be built on the Sheriff's lot.

The city council will meet tonight and the most important matter to come up for consideration will be that of the question of granting a franchise for the Martin electric line. The proper steps have been taken by advertising and there are two bids in for a franchise, one being presented by the Martin Company, and one by R. L. Gowdy, but the company presented by him is not stated. Mr. Martin has a big force of men at work on the Robert's place, a large number of men and teams being employed and the work is being pushed right along. The D. S. and U. which has announced its intention to build a line between Springfield and this city has recently been engaged in getting consents on Detroit street. Altogether electric railway affairs are

NERVOUSNESS FELT OVER ABSENCE OF U. S. BALLOONISTS

Party May Have Been Held Up By Accident Is Fear.

Mattice, Ont., Jan. 10.—Silence hung over the northland today and the absence of definite word from the American balloonists has begun to cause nervousness among officials, press correspondents and friends who are gathered along the frontier of civilization to welcome the aeronauts when they emerge from the frozen wilderness.

There is much talk of the party being held up by misadventure of some sort, possibly an accident due to bad trails or illness. The Indian runner, George McLeod, who brought the first word of the safe arrival of the Americans at Moose Factory, revealed further that Lieut. Stephen Farrell one of the balloonists, who suffered worst on the trip, while the men were lost in the forests, was in very bad shape physically. He had suffered keenly from exposure, frost bite and hunger and was so weak when the party left Moose Factory for the railway that he had to be carried on a dog sled. He was unable to walk.

Guides who ventured northward from Cochrane on the chance of intercepting the party, have sent word that the trail along the Abitibi river is in treacherous condition. The river is full of rapids and many places are covered by slush and snow is not supported by solid ice underneath.

Even the experienced Indian runners were fooled by some of the soft spots.

However, bad weather is being taken into consideration and it is recognized that the fresh snow which has been prevailing north of Mattice would hold up the party to some extent.

There was keen disappointment when the men did not arrive on Sunday afternoon.

If the balloonists come into Mattice they will find a brawny member of the Canadian police waiting to put them under arrest on the technical charge of landing in the uniform of a foreign nation at a place otherwise than those designated in the international agreement for aircraft. But it is a friendly proceeding.

"I do not like even the idea of a technical arrest for those boys are sure heroes," said Policeman McLaughlin who was designated by the Canadian government to await their arrival and arrest them. McLaughlin is a fine upstanding man, brawny, clear-eyed and alert—a typical member of the Royal Northwest Mounted police. "I don't know what to do first 'arrest them' or congratulate them, he said.

IMPORTANT ADVANCES IN WELFARE WORK MADE BY HOOVEN AND ALLISON COMPANY

The Management of The Hooven & Allison Company, with the co-operation of the employees of the company, who number 650 men and women when the Xenia Mills are running in full force, and with the assistance of a number of Xenia's best known physicians, have undertaken an important extension of the Welfare Work already installed on the grounds of the Plant.

This work, which has been quietly extended during the past five years, has reached a point where it is to be one of the Company's Departments and conducted under systematic supervision, with trained men and women in charge. A number of valuable features are already in operation. The Company has erected 61 dwellings for its employees, all located on its own grounds. These dwellings are each complete in themselves and provided with living comforts and sanitary conveniences. Attention will be given this year to the care of lawns, shade trees, flowers and vines. Each resident who desires has a garden in a large plot set aside by the Company and supervised by a practical gardener. The past year these garden plots have been observed and favorably commented on by many people who drove out Cincinnati Avenue. 120 of these plots were gardened last year.

At the east end of the Company's grounds, five acres have been allotted for a playground for children. These grounds are to be laid out and equipped by the Supervisor of Employment. He and the Welfare Director will have charge of the grounds and equip them for children's healthy, out-door play life.

Life Insurance is carried by the Company for the benefit of all employees who have been in its service for six months or longer. The Company furnishes coal and groceries to its employees, charging only cost and a small overhead expense. It operates also an excellent cafeteria where meals are served at cost to all employees who desire them.

The Company has lately converted a residence, immediately joining the New Mill on Cincinnati Avenue, into Welfare Department Quarters. It contains an attractive waiting room, office, a completely equipped surgery and medical room, wards for three beds and quarters for the Director of Welfare, Mrs. C. C. Shearer and a graduate full time nurse, Miss Madge McKenzie, who has joined this work as her assistant. It is in connection with these well equipped quarters that a number of well known physicians of this city have associated their services and will hold a daily clinic from 11:15 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. for the benefit of the employees of the Company and their families. The physicians who have consented to serve for the trial of this plan of service are: Dr. Harold C. Messenger, Dr. R. K. Finley, Dr. A. D. DeHaven, Dr. Clarence Denner, Dr. C. G. McPherson, Dr. Rayburn Mc-

Clellan, Dr. Lawrence Shields, Dr. Reed Madden, Dr. W. A. Galloway, Chief of Staff.

The first named six will each serve the clinic one day in the week at the clinic hour. Dr. Madden and Dr. Shields will be available for their special work on call. Dr. Galloway will give aid to the entire plan of Welfare work of the medical section. A number of these physicians are skilled specialists. It is hoped later to develop the staff service to make these valuable specialist services available at the clinic under conditions of trained nurse attendance and efficient oversight. Aid for accident cases of severe accident the patient will have a ward available till he may be able to be removed to his own home. This work will remain under the compensation for employee and physician of the Ohio Industrial Commission.

Funds for sustaining the clinic, which is a separate welfare effort to that of the Ohio Industrial Commission, are provided by a small assessment weekly on each employee and the Company, which adds sufficient each week to provide for the estimated expense budget.

"It is hoped that a trial of this plan of service for the coming six months may prove both practical and successful and that the Company's entire welfare work will have the hearty co-operation of all who are associated with it or may be interested in this particular work or in community welfare work," said Dr. W. A. Galloway, Monday.

IS GRANDEST ON EARTH, SHE SAYS

Toledo Woman Makes Gain of Twenty Eight Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"From my experience with it I positively believe that Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth," said Mrs. J. L. Southward, 3306 1-2 Monroe street, Toledo, Ohio.

"At the time I began taking this medicine," she continued, "my health was dreadfully run-down, and now I am feeling as well as I ever did in my life and I have gained twenty-eight pounds."

"My stomach was in such bad condition that after every meal I would be in distress for several hours. Gas would form and accumulate around my heart, and I had such terrible smothering spells I would become frightened. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep well at night; during the day I was so weak I could not attend to my household duties. I tried all kinds of medicines, but nothing did me any good."

"I began taking Tanlac upon the advice of a friend who had been greatly helped by it, and I began to feel the good results after the first day. My appetite picked up, and when I began eating hearty meals I was surprised to find my food agreed with me perfectly."

"I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac, and I am not troubled in the least now by gas forming, smothering spells nor nervousness and I sleep like a child all night. I feel rested and refreshed on rising in the mornings and I am now able to do all my own housework."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, in Yellow Springs by A. Finley; Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

THE WEEK AFTER NEW YEAR'S—WHEN DOUBTS BEGIN TO CREEP IN ABOUT THOSE RESOLUTIONS.

By Margaret E. Sangster.

It is usually with a fine fervor that we make our New Year's resolutions. We are so sure of ourselves on New Year's morning; we are so certain that we will never repeat the mistakes of a year ago! In the past we have known discouragement and met with failure—in the past we have clasped hands with defeat and, perhaps, shirked many a responsibility. But, despite discouragement and failure and defeat, we are pleasantly conscious, on New Year's morning, of the fact that Father Time has turned over a clean white leaf for us to write upon. We are pleasantly conscious of the fact that the writing has been erased, again, from life's slate.

We make our New Year's resolutions buoyantly—notwithstanding the fact that we have made, and failed to keep, many resolutions in the past. We make them smilingly, with assurance in our souls and a song in our hearts. Nothing seems too hard to accomplish with a New Year stretched out, like a shining road, across the future. Nothing seems too large to promise, too difficult to undertake. Why, there's a whole twelve months in which to fulfil our promises—a whole three hundred and sixty-five days in which to redeem our pledges. We are so sure of ourselves on New Year's morning!

Friends of mine, it's better to make a few promises that you will really be able to keep than to make a great many that will have to be neglected. You're apt to have a better reputation for truth, a better standing in the community, if you pledge yourself to do only a few things—and do them well!

And so, a week after New Year's if you have made only the resolutions that you can do justice to, you will be much happier than the folk who have made so many and such elaborate resolutions that they are swamped by them. You'll find that people are more likely to expect worth-while things of you.

DOUGHT WE TO INTERFERE WITH ENGLAND'S IRISH QUESTION, ANY MORE THAN THEY WITH OUR DOMESTIC AFFAIRS?

Certain overzealous advocates of the cause for which Irishmen are fighting are adopting tactics that are bound to alienate rather than win sympathy from neutral sources. The United States Government is officially neutral on the subject of Irish home rule and Irish independence. It has no more ground of quarrel with Great Britain because of its management of what it considers to be a domestic question than the British Government would have over the policy of America in the Philippines or over our handling of the problem of mob violence in certain sections of this country. Any deliberate attempt, therefore, to embroil us with Great Britain under the mistaken notion that thereby the cause of Ireland will be aided is not only very bad strategy but is directly calculated to create hostility where none now exists and to destroy the natural sympathy which America is always ready to extend to the oppressed.

Such obvious attempts to arouse the passions of the ignorant and unthinking do no good to the cause in which they are employed. American sympathy with Ireland's just aspirations for liberty is genuine and sincere. The hope of most of us, as it is perhaps the hope of a great proportion of the people of Great Britain as well, is for some just settlement of the Irish question as shall bring peace, contentment and prosperity to Ireland and heal a running sore which for centuries has embittered the relations of Ireland and England. But it is recognized that the issue is one that will have to be solved by the peoples immediately concerned and that any external interference will only intensify the difficulties and delay the solution.

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION.

In case of death, resignation or removal of president, or of "inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office," the vice president becomes president. If the vice president fails, then presidential succession act provides that members of cabinet, in order of creation of their departments, shall "act as president" until congress can order new election. Cabinet officers cannot actually become president or draw salary as such, but can merely perform duties of presidency, super-added to their own, during emergency. Constitution says president must be "elected," and cabinet officers are merely appointed, not elected. There is no method providing for determining what constitutes "inability" of president; this question arose during the long and serious illness of President Wilson but remained unanswered.

STATES THAT GROW PRESIDENTS.

Virginia, the "Mother of Presidents," has furnished eight presidents (Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Tyler, W. H. Harrison, Taylor and Wilson) and they served 45 years, out of a total of 132. Ohio comes next with six (Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley and Taft) and they served 25 years. New York has furnished three (VanBuren, Fillmore and Roosevelt) and they served 15 years. North Carolina has also furnished three (Jackson, Polk and Johnson) and they served 16 years. Massachusetts has furnished two (John Adams and J. Q. Adams) and they served eight years. The only other states in which presidents have been born are Kentucky (Lincoln), New Hampshire (Pierce), New Jersey (Cleveland), Pennsylvania (Buchanan), and Vermont (Arthur). Hence only 10 states out of the 48 have bred men who became president. Both the big parties went to Ohio this year for their candidate; so that state will probably score again.

"THE LUCK O' THE NAVY" IS STILL GOOD, BALLOONISTS PROVE

Pals of the balloonists at Rockaway, N. Y., naval air station receiving news of safety of three balloonists' view of Moose Factory, near where they landed, and inset of Walter Hinton, one of the three "lucky" fliers.

The luck o' the navy holds good for balloonists as well as the sea-going fighters. That's what any man-jack of 'em will tell you now that the three naval lieutenants lost for weeks after a balloon fight, are on their way back to the station, safe and sound. The three men, Lieutenants Walter Hinton (who was a member of the NC-4), A. L. Kloor and S. A. Farrell, left Rockaway field December 14. Four days later, after battling weather and landing conditions, they landed in a forest near Moose Factory, a Hudson Bay trading post on the shores of James bay in northern Canada. They were sheltered in an Indian's tepee until help came from Moose Factory. No report of their fate was received until January 2. It took Indian runners twelve days to carry the message of their rescue to the nearest point of communication.

THE LAW'S DELAY.

Near San Francisco, recently, three delegates were lynched; they were in jail, their weird to dreer, for crimes revoltingly pinched. And masked men came, perhaps three score, as grim as doom or fate, and strung them to a sycamore, which groaned beneath their weight. And law abiding people then sent up an angry cry; it was a shame that untried men should thus unshriven die. And I forsook my divers tasks to rant around and rail, to say those brutal men in masks should all be locked in jail. "No man should feel the halter draw, except by court's decree," I sternly cried; "we have our law, and it should honored be." Whereat a most sardonic skate, who stood at my right hand, remarked, "The people would not wait to see those monsters canned. And so the stars above us saw a scene of death and woe; the people weary of the law, it is so beastly slow. A fiend is tried and tried again, and tried another time, until the weary sons of men forget his ancient crime. And if at last some prison grim should hide his sodden form, some governor will pardon him before his bunk is warm. Or, through some writ that has a flaw, to fresh crime he may go; the people weary of the law, it is so deadly slow." I looked with scorn upon the gink who talked in such a way; I looked with scorn, but couldn't think of anything to say.

THE STILES BAKING COMPANY AFFILIATES WITH LABORTORY

On another page of this edition of the Gazette appears a big advertisement by the Stiles Baking Company, announcing the introduction of a new loaf of bread which will be known as KLEEN MAID Bread. In view of the advertising which has already started on KLEEN MAID bread and the fact that the introduction of this loaf signifies a new affiliation of the Stiles Baking Co., with a famous laboratory of food chemistry, readers of the Gazette will, no doubt, be interested in Mr. Paul Stiles' statement regarding his company's new plans.

"The most important fact that in connection with our introduction of KLEEN MAID Bread," says Mr. Stiles, "is that KLEEN MAID is not merely a new name adopted for the purpose of attracting attention, but that KLEEN MAID Bread itself represents a new step forward in the history of our company, and we confidently believe, of the baking industry of this section. KLEEN MAID stands for new developments in our methods of bread-making, based on scientific premises. Our introduction of the new loaf is the direct result of our recent affiliation with a Chicago concern which we believe is doing more than any other one agency in the world to elevate the quality and food-value of the nation's staff of life"—BREAD.

FOR SKIN TORTURES

Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Just What You Need. Is Not Greasy. Don't worry about eczema or other skin troubles. You can have a clear, healthy skin by using Zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35c, or extra large bottle at $1.00. Zemo generally removes pimples, blackheads, blotches, eczema and ringworm and makes the skin clear and healthy. Zemo is a clean, penetrating, antiseptic liquid, neither sticky nor greasy and stains nothing. It is easily applied and costs a mere trifle for each application. It is always dependable. In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

buy them, and for bread made by bakers who work under the instructions of the world's most able staff of baking experts.

KLEEN MAID is so distinctly superior to any bread we have heretofore produced and is so truly a product of scientific knowledge—as opposed to the "guesswork" bread of the unscientific bakery or the home kitchen—that we believe its merit cannot fail to be apparent to the person who will give it a fair trial. We expect our KLEEN MAID Bread to set a standard of bread goodness in this locality and to win many of our Xenia women away from the wasteful and tedious practice of doing their own baking.

Introducing— KLEEN-MAID

Don't Say
"Bread"
Say
"KLEEN MAID"

A New Bread

A Different Bread

A Bread of Super-fine Quality

YOU Xenia folks who have traveled, will remember the name KLEEN MAID Bread. You've seen it advertised in many of our big cities, where it is the leading product of America's greatest bakeries.

To secure the KLEEN MAID bread for Xenia, was an achievement of which we are proud. For there is much more to it than merely a fine-sounding bread name.

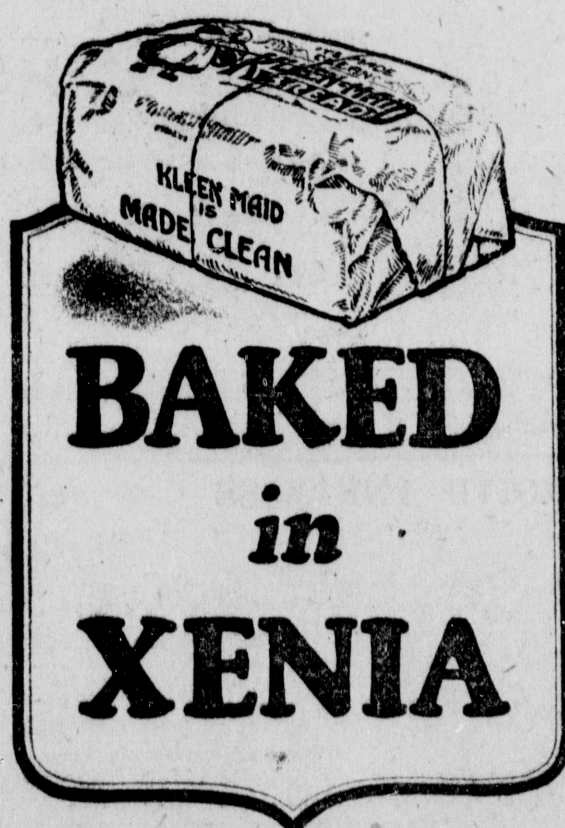

The name KLEEN MAID goes only on bread that is up to a certain standard. And the bakery getting it must qualify--it must be prepared to produce the quality demanded before it can secure the rights.

We qualified. And we're proud of it. We consider it the greatest event in our career as bakers to Xenia.

To assist in making it a loaf of supreme quality we called to our bakery the most efficient experts in baking chemistry, organization and shop practice to supplement our own efforts.

These experts advised us to make KLEEN MAID only in the economical big loaf. Big loaves are better even when made from the same dough. They bake to a finer texture and have a more delicious flavor. Big loaves have less crust and therefore less waste.

In KLEEN MAID, we offer you bread that we honestly believe you'll pronounce the best you ever tasted. Your taste will tell you the excellence of its quality. You can be sure that it is a loaf of full purity, quality, nourishment--the finest bread that we know how to produce.

KLEEN MAID is now at your grocer's in the Economical Big Loaf. Order a loaf to-day

ECONOMY SURGED BY HARRY DAVIS IN JOINT MESSAGE

striving to make the Ohio State University the largest and best state university in the United States. Increase the facilities of the other state institutions of learning.

Endeavor to stop the activities of professional lobbyists.

Discourage class legislation, or measures in behalf of special interests. Enact only such laws as are required to carry on the work of the state, speed up the work of the present legislative session and adjourn at the earliest date possible.

"It is our purpose to conduct the public business as nearly as possible like any successful private business is managed," declared Governor Davis.

"Such methods and measures as will make for the better performance of the work of the state will be put into operation, regardless of their political effect," continued the governor. "The cause of good government can be served best only by serving the people best. That is by thorough, business-like conduct of the public affairs. Only in the constant pursuit of such a policy can the people's confidence in this administration find justification."

Governor Davis announced that he will, from time to time, as the occasion requires, call upon the foremost authorities in Ohio on financial and other questions to meet and work with him on public problems.

Discussing economy, Governor Davis said: "The heavy financial burden which has been placed upon the people by the war, the effect of which is still reflected in the form of heavy and unprecedented taxation and in the high cost of living generally, demands that all government activities be carried forward with the utmost economy compatible with good government and sound business methods."

Referring to former Governor Cox's statement, contained in his final message to the state legislature last week that the cash balance on June 30, 1920, $9,011,182 is larger than the balance at the end of any previous year, Gov. Davis said:

"To avoid the possibility of a misunderstanding, I believe it should be explained that this is not a balance that can be used for general state purposes. It should be understood that it consists largely of special fund balances."

"Nearly $8,000,000 of it belongs to the state highway fund and must be spent for state highway purposes. The high condition of this fund is due to the extensive retardation of highway work in recent years."

"The only part of the balance quoted by my predecessor that is usable for general state expenses is $931,063.78—the general fund balance on June 30, 1920. This is the amount to which the general fund has dropped from a balance of $7,026,301.98, which contained on December 31, 1912."

"It shows the crying need for the exercise of the most rigid economy by this government."

On the subject of taxation, Gov.

Davis said: "The taxes of Ohio for years have labored under serious handicaps financially, due entirely to their rapid growth, the increase generally on the cost of commodities and labor and the failure of the tax revenue to keep pace with the changed conditions."

"On the other hand, the rural communities must not be expected to pay, in increased taxation, any part of the cost of operating the government of the metropolitan centers. It would be highly unjust to the farmer to saddle on him a burden of this kind. No solution of the cities' financial problems is to be considered which would compel the agricultural elements to help support the cities. The principle of the ninth one percent law must continue to safeguard against such a possibility."

Governor Davis expressed the belief that an effective solution of the pressing problem of the cities, with the farmer rigidly protected, is to be found through application of the principle of home rule in taxation: under the application of which, each community would declare by vote whether and how much they are willing to tax themselves in excess of the Smith law limitation so as to insure effective maintenance of the various municipal activities.

Relative to law enforcement, Gov. Davis said that there is no longer a wet and dry problem, and that it is the duty of all public officials to carry out the people's mandate strictly by "an iron-handed policy in the enforcement of all laws."

He insisted that every possibility of laxity, in the liquor law enforcement, whether state-wide or local, must be eliminated.

"The accomplishment of this result lies in uniformly strict application of the Crabbe act in every section," declared Governor Davis. "Such uniformity of policy and practice, believe can be assured only by placing the task of enforcement into the hands of state authorities, through the creation of a state prohibition enforcement staff. Such a working force cooperating with local and federal authorities in details, will at once assure a systematic carrying out of the provisions of the Crabbe act throughout the length and breadth of the state, and will give the executive department of the government, bearing the responsibility of enforcement a direct and definite means with which to discharge it."

Governor Davis announced that it will be the policy of his administration to halt too free an application of the pardoning power and to restrict the granting of freedom to prisoners, before expiration of their terms, to the fewest and most clearly meritorious cases.

"The menace to society from indiscriminate discharge of habitual lawbreakers demands an attitude of firmness in dealing with prisoners in our penal institutions," the governor said. "Experience of recent years indicates that a large proportion of prisoners who are granted clemency use their regained freedom to embark upon their career of crime."

Directing attention to the public highways, Governor Davis said he is satisfied that policies pursued heretofore relative to the construction of state highways have not been marked by efficient methods. He said that as a consequence, the best results, to which the people are entitled have not been obtained.

"A more effective marketing system is of the most pressing need and every effort in that direction will receive the aid and encouragement of the state administration," Governor Davis promised. "The immediate result of an improvement in the system is bound to be lower prices to the consumer and increased profits to the farmer."

"The first essential to a betterment of the marketing system lies in good roads which will form the connecting link between farmer and consumer, and eliminate waste of food."

Declaring prompt action must be taken for the protection of the public against promoters of fraudulent schemes, Governor Davis said that for some time the state has been flooded with an avalanche of worthless securities and that a rich harvest has been reaped at the expense of Ohio citizens by unscrupulous promoters of such securities.

Touching upon the workmen's compensation act, he said every effort must be made to eliminate delays and to make prompt and final disposition of all cases of persons entitled to benefits under that act.

In dealing with the American problem, Governor Davis said all action should be with a view to encouraging and helping those of foreign birth to acquire a thorough knowledge of American institutions, laws, language and history, and should be aided to become real Americans in the briefest time possible.

He pointed out that large parts of the populations of Ohio's largest cities are composed of persons of foreign origin.

"As governor, it will be my endeavor to make the state an unhealthy place for Bolshevists and anarchists," declared Governor Davis.

Glad To Help Other Sufferers

Morgan County People Use the Famous U & S Stomach Bitters Constantly

"Service to Others" constitutes the real joy of living and the paramount idea of life in the first place. To live within one's self invariably causes one to become selfish and caustic. To aid and assist others on the other hand, always makes us feel better, and nothing a person can do gives greater joy to the recipient and deeper satisfaction to the giver than to aid to killing pain. Mrs. Boileau of Joy, Ohio, gladly testifies to the merits of the Famous U & S Stomach Bitters and wants everyone to know about it. Here is what she says:

F. V. Townsend, Distributer, Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Sir:—

Please find enclosed check for $2.50, for which send me two bottles of U & S Stomach Bitters. My husband and myself have both been taking it, and find it an excellent remedy for liver and low troubles; also tones up the system and seems to renew one's vitality. It certainly does all that is claimed for it. You may use this testimonial if you wish; it may help some one else to a better joy of living.

Respectfully, MRS. A. A. BOILEAU, Joy (Morgan Co.) Ohio.

U & S Stomach Bitters are manufactured by the U & S Remedy Co., London, Ohio.

CENTRAL HIGH DROPS GAME TO ANTIOCH

Although outplaying their opponents in every department of the grand old pastime, Central High School's erstwhile victorious basketball team, was outplayed by an inch by Antioch Academy basketballers in the game played at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Saturday night. The score was 31-30.

Boxing events are often won on foul and a high foul has killed off a rally and saved a victory for many a basketball team, but it was many fouls that contributed to the downfall of the blue and white laddies.

A one-point defeat, always does cause a lot of gnashing of molars, and tearing of dome foliage and when the defeat is served on a platter of gratis shots, the sting is doubled. But when the referee makes the sixth man on the floor for one team or the other, the team at a disadvantage has a right to sit up and shout. This is the position taken by athletic authorities at Central High, who witnessed the game and who insist that the official had a mole in his eye when it came to watching his favorites but was particularly keen-sighted in spotting errors on the part of the locals, even to the point of seeing them when they were not there, which displays unusual visual powers.

Antioch (31) Xenia (30) Hudson, . . . . . M. Dawson LeSourd, . . . . . Weston Moore, . . . . . Little Owens, . . . . . C. Dawson Boxwell, . . . . . Central High School second team lost to Blanchester Saturday evening 44-11.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER HELD BY POLICE FOLLOWING ARRESTS

William Scott, colored, East Third street, was arrested by Motorcycle Policeman Clark Stethem Monday morning and is being held by police on a charge of selling, furnishing and delivering intoxicating liquors.

Scott's arrest followed the arrest Sunday morning of Clayton Nichols and Henry Shaw, both white, who were taken into custody on charges of drunkenness and were fined $5 and costs each by Police Judge E. Dawson Smith Monday morning.

The men were arrested by Motorcycle Policeman Stethem assisted by Russell Peterson, who took the officer to the scene in an automobile. At Police Headquarters they told Chief of Police Graham, where they had secured the liquor, and the arrest of Scott followed immediately.

Scott entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in Police Court Monday morning, and he will be given a hearing Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in Police Court. According to Chief Graham, Nichols and Shaw had gone to the Scott home to procure the liquor, but Scott refused to furnish the liquor there and delivered it later on a street corner. It is alleged he furnished the men with a pint of "corn whiskey" for which he was paid $6.

ANTIOCH DEFEATS CEDARVILLE 36-20

Antioch College basketballers reached out and grabbed the edge on the annual series with Cedarville College by defeating the Presbyterians 36-20, in the game played at Alford Memorial Gymnasium, Cedarville, Saturday night.

The game enabled Antioch to divide the twin-bill with the Cedarville tossers, the girls team the latter school defeating the Yellow Springs College girls, 22-18, in a contest that showed unusual interest for spectators.

In the main mill of the two-game program, the Antiochians showed better pass-work than the Cedarville quintet and a rather daring shooting menu that was successful. Cedarville during the entire first half, was baffled by the high speed pass work of the Yellow Springs cagers, and the period for the Cedarville lads, meant a world of long shots, and a few lucky baskets. Antioch developed a big lead in this period that enabled the tossers from that school to stand for a different offensive on part of Cedarville in the second period.

The contest was marked by the playing of Willis Corry, who has been transferred from center to right forward this year, and who covered a world of territory producing lightning like pass-work and a good eye at the hoops. Dwight Northup was another shining light while watching his man carefully he annexed five baskets himself. Collins was the principal point man for the Cedarville lads, contributing five fielders and two fouls, willtoacet R DL RD e taoe tao inH, while H. Wright injected much into the game with his entrance in the second period. The lineup and summary:

Drop by spoonfuls on greased pan and bake

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

Just to Be Together Enough.

Chapter 60.

A feeling of thankfulness that we were all saved crowded out all regret for other loss. No one had been hurt seriously, although dear Mrs. Gray had sprained her ankle. She knew of a boarding house near, and Jim and Clara, the Grays, with us, found rooms there until we could decide what we would do.

"All my hard work on that house gone up in smoke" Dick complained so comically we all laughed.

"Just as well I didn't accept your offer to plan one for me," Jim replied. They saw how nervous and shaken we women were and tried to help us by acting as if they, too, weren't almost as upset as we were.

"Of course, you were insured?" It was Mrs. Gray who spoke to Dick.

"No, I have talked of it, but kept putting it off." He did not tell them that he had spoken to me several times and that I had objected to him using the money.

"You don't mean to say Williams, that you had no insurance on your things!" Jim Watson said.

"Not a cent!" Dick answered. "Well, I am surprised—and sorry. I would have sworn you would have known you carry life insurance, why not fire?"

"Predestination," Dick exclaimed, again shielding me.

"I am very sorry," Mrs. Gray's gentle voice broke in.

When Dick left to go to the office I followed him, into the hall.

"You will have to make money now, Dick, lots of it. We can't live in a boarding house, you hate it so, and it will cost a lot to buy furniture."

"Don't worry, Nan! I am so thankful I still have you and Junior I can think of nothing else. Look around, it will keep you from thinking and see if you can find a little furnished apartment cheap. I'd go mad in a boarding house."

If Dick's father hadn't left us that $5,000 we would have been in an awful condition. But we had that, and the $700 we had made—that is, most of it. I forgot our debts as I assured myself we would soon make enough to pay for furniture, etc., again. And I also planned to buy better, handsomer things when we did buy. We were on our way to make our fortune. The fire was a set-back of course, but only a temporary one—so I figured.

I found a little place before night. It was small, and we would be cramped. But it had a nice kitchen, and Dick could have the things he liked. Clara and Jim would remain in the boarding house until they found an apartment. They would refurnish with their insurance money as would the Grays.

Another reason I was glad to get the furnished apartment was that at the boarding house we could have so little privacy, and I wanted to talk things over with Dick. Clara was a bit curious and even if Dick had said he might put Jim wise to making a little on the side, I knew he did not want them to know too much of our affairs.

He brought home a big roll of paper, and at once started to draw plans for a home improving on the old ones—so he claimed.

"You see, Nan," he said for the hundredth time, "we won't have an architect to pay so we can put that into the house." He forgot that what he intended to save by being his own architect had already gone into every part of the house from the cellar to the attic, although now he proposed to put it into a new window. Neither of us had experience enough to know that a good architect is the very best asset a young inexperienced couple can have when they decide to build a home. Especially is this so if they have but a limited amount to spend.

"Well, insure to the limit!" he replied. "You would have been insured if it hadn't been for me."

"It can't be helped now. I should not have listened to you Nan. I knew it was risky, especially in a cheaply built apartment house. But there's no use crying over spilt milk. I saw Harter today. He's going to open an account with us. He said it was because I was employed there. The firm are pleased."

"Will you make a lot because of it?" "That depends. But such things make a fellow solid with the house."

"I hope it will make them advance your salary. We'll need all we can get now."

Yet that night we were happier, less taken up with thoughts of money, than in many months. That we had been saved seemed to make all else of no particular significance. We petted and loaned Junior; then after he had fallen asleep, we talked softly, lovingly, to each other, until we too retired.

To Be Continued.

of the Civil War, he came to New York and found a position as a bank clerk. Although the bank clerk's salary was ridiculously small, he saved money, invested it wisely, and before long was junior partner in a small banking business. His business prospered so he was fairly rich before he had been in America ten years. Later he became a member of one of the greatest banking firms in America, and finally head of that firm.

It was Mr. Schiff who backed E. H. Harriman in the great financial adventure involving hundreds of millions, by which the Union Pacific Railroad was recognized. He placed a large Japanese loan in this country when Japan went to war with Russia; was financial advisor to the Standard Oil Company, and to many great railroads.

Yet he is best known as a philanthropist and gave millions away in charities. He was intensely patriotic and as soon as we entered the war denounced Germany, and declared it already defeated. He was a militant American and wanted no peace without complete victory. He was a friend of almost all the great political leaders.

The Methodist Episcopal population of the United States (white) is 6,328, 476.

Is It Yours

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF JACOB H. SCHIFF January 10, 1847

One of the greatest of American financiers and philanthropists was Jacob H. Schiff, born in 1847, whose death occurred only last September.

He was born in Germany of a family in moderate circumstances. One relative was a banker and from him Mr. Schiff received a little early training in finance, which was enough to make him want to become a banker also. At the age of 19 he decided that America held the greatest promise for him and so, just after the close
